How to display a React application to Netlify that reads from a Google Sheet

In this tutorial, we're going to cover how to connect to a spreadsheet hosted on Google, display that information inside a React application, and deploy it to Netlify.

Skip to "The Setup" if you don't care about where the data will be coming from or why I chose to build this. I won't be mad, I promise.

Right now the final result looks like this, but I'll be adding more features to it shortly.
